

Thanks very much for considering us for your work! Below you will find current compensation rates. These rates are updated quarterly. The dates associated with each quarter are listed below.

If our subscriber base crosses one of the thresholds below within the next quarter of your submission appearing, you will be paid the difference. So if you publish something with us in Q3, and our subscriber base jumps to the next tier in Q4, we'll send you the difference. We figure that means your work helped us grow, so you should benefit too.

We'll be including subscriber base info in our quarterly Insiders newsletters, so you'll know exactly where we're at any given time.
